TINKA COMMENCES IP SURVEY AT TIBILLOS COPPER PORPHYRY PROJECT IN PERU

Vancouver, Canada - Tinka Resources Limited (the “Company”) (TSXV - TK; Frankfurt - TLD; Pinksheets -TKRFF). Andrew Carter, President, reports that at the Company’s Tibillos copper porphyry property, located in the coastal batholith 65 km east of Ica, Peru, a preliminary mapping survey has been completed.

The objective of this initial mapping survey was to determine, where possible, the geometry and zoning features of the porphyry target. Thus far, a typical zonation from propylitic to pyritic and phyllic zones has been identified on the western side of the target zone, but faulting has complicated the eastern side, down-dropping propylitic and pyritic altered volcanic and sedimentary roof pendant rocks next to the highly altered porphyry. A target zone of potentially economic mineralization at least 800 m east-west by 700 m north-south has been interpreted so far.

An induced polarization (IP) geophysical survey, which will incorporate approximately 18 line-kilometres of grid, has commenced and should be completed by the end of November. The drill permitting process, for an initial drill program, has already begun with a targeted drill start date for early 2011.

Mr. Carter said: “We are pleased that these important steps are underway as it will allow the Company to advance the project as quickly as possible.”
